NASA Marshall Space Flight Center

2011 Minorities in Science & Engineering (MISE) Summer Internship Project

May 31-August 5, 2011

The Minority in Science & Engineering (MISE) Summer Internship program is a collaborative between NASA Marshall Space Flight Center and local institutions including: Alabama A&M University (AAMU), Oakwood University (OU), and the University of Alabama (UA) system. The goals of MISE are to promote the retention of minorities in the Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM) disciplines and to provide students a hands-on NASA career awareness experience. MISE is a 10-week Summer Research Internship followed by directed mentoring and professional networking opportunities during the school year.

Stipend:

- Students will receive a $5,000 stipend.
